Are Your Family's Teeth At Risk?

It has been estimated in studies that millions of teeth are lost annually across North America during sporting activities. These injuries can occur at any age: child, teenager or adult. When one considers a single lost tooth can cost thousands of dollars over a person's lifetime, a well-engineered mouthguard is a very affordable alternative.

Are Some Sports "Safer" Than Others?

While the potential for heavy contact is not the same in all sports, this does not mean that the possibility of tooth loss or serious injury is eliminated. A mouthguard should be worn during any activity where contact can be made or a fall could occur. This includes hockey, touch or contact football, lacrosse, baseball, basketball and martial arts as well as other activities that may not seem as dangerous (e.g., soccer, squash/racquetball, tennis, bicycling, rollerblading and skating).

Sports-Flex Mouthguards™ - A Revolutionary New Development In Tooth and Mouth Protection

Sports-Flex mouthguards are custom-made by your dentist to fit your individual needs. They fit better than competing mouthguards, providing protection that will not slip out of place in heavy contact. Sports-Flex are more comfortable, do not impede breathing and allow you to talk normally.

Each Sports-Flex is constructed with multiple layers of specially strengthened material. An extra brace of hardened plastic built into each mouthguard deflects forces away from the high risk upper front teeth. The Sports-Flex Family provides maximum protection, reducing the chance of tooth loss or other serious injury.
